Nenu l-Furnar

Carmel Debono, magħruf aħjar aktar bħala Nenu, tweled fil-ħamsinijiet. Nenu tgħallem is-sengħa ta' furnar mingħand missieru u qraha oħra, jaħmi l-ħobża tradizzjonali tal-Malti, kif ukoll il-ftira.

L-imħabba u l-passjoni li għandu Nenu lejn is-sengħa tiegħu, inkluz kif jaħmi ġieghlitu jtejjeb il-forn tiegħu f'Hal Qormi. Il-vizjoni li għandu Nenu tal-kċina lokali għandha l-ikel tradizzjonali Malti bħala l-fulkru. L-impenn ta' Nenu biex iħares ir-riċetti u l-mod kif kienu jsajru u jieklu missirijietna fil-passat, wassluh biex joħloq dik l-esperjenza ta' ikel f' NENU THE ARTISAN BAKER, fejn jingħata ġieħ lill-ikel tradizzjonali Malti msajjar f'forn antik ta' madwar mitt sena.

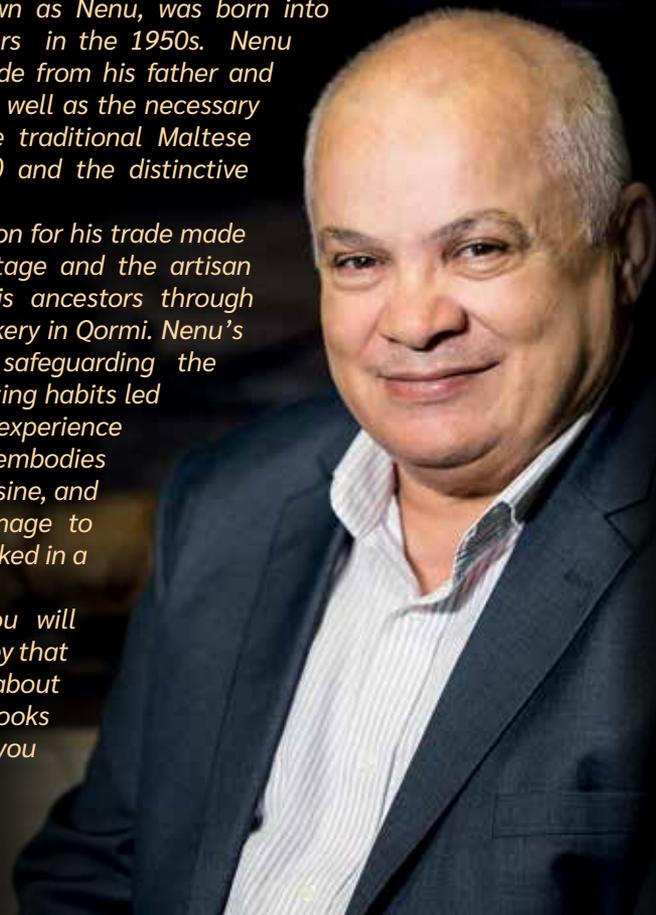

Nenu jittama li tapprezza dan il-vjaġġ kulinarju li ser jipprezentalek l-Artisan Baker, u jistenna bil-ħerqa li jerga jarak mill-ġdid fil-futur.

Nenu the Artisan Baker

Carmel Debono, known as Nenu, was born into a family of Qormi bakers in the 1950s. Nenu learned the baker's trade from his father and other close relatives, as well as the necessary skills for producing the traditional Maltese bread (ħobża tal-Malti) and the distinctive flat bread (ftira).

Nenu's love and passion for his trade made him safeguard his heritage and the artisan skills acquired from his ancestors through improvements at his bakery in Qormi. Nenu's commitment towards safeguarding the recipes and the past eating habits led him to create an eating experience at NENU THE ARTISAN BAKER that embodies the heritage of local cuisine, and unashamedly pays homage to traditional local food baked in a 100-year-old oven.

Nenu hopes that you will enjoy the culinary journey that the Artisan Baker is about to give you, and he looks forward to hosting you again in the future.
